EDUCATION

Cornell University, Ph.D., Development Sociology, 1985

Northwestern University, M.A., Anthropology, 1976

Yale University, B.A., Archaeology, 1974

HONORS

- 2007 Planter Award, Dane County Food Council
- 2000 Spitzer Excellence in Teaching Award, CALS-University of Wisconsin
- 1998 Lightning Rod Award, Madison Community Gardeners Coalition
- 1992-95 Pew Fellow in Conservation and the Environment
- 1991 Robert K. Merton Professional Award, presented by the Science, Knowledge, and Technology section of the American Sociological Association for First the Seed
- 1989-91 Social Science Research Council-MacArthur Foundation Fellowship in International Peace and Security
- 1989 Theodore Saloutos Memorial Book Award, presented by the Agricultural History Society for First The Seed

EMPLOYMENT

Professor, Department of Community and Environmental Sociology, UW-Madison,

2003 - present

Associate Professor, Department of Rural Sociology, University of Wisconsin-Madison,

1992-2002

Assistant Professor, Department of Rural Sociology, University of Wisconsin-Madison,

1985-1992

Peace Corps Volunteer, Botswana, 1976-1979.

BOOKS AND MONOGRAPHS

Kloppenburger, Jack,

- 1988 First The Seed: The Political Economy of Plant Biotechnology, 1492-2000. New York, NY: Cambridge University Press (received the Agricultural History Society's Theodore Saloutos Memorial Book Award for best book on agricultural history published in 1988; received the Robert K. Merton Professional Award from the Science, Knowledge and Technology section of the American Sociological Association in 1991; paperback edition published 1990).
- 2004 First the Seed reissued by University of Wisconsin Press with a new preface and an additional chapter, "Still the Seed," updating the book.
- 2006 Chapter 2 of First the Seed, "Science, Agriculture and Social Change" reprinted in Nanneke Redclift and Sahra Gibbon (eds.), Genetics: Critical Concepts in Social and Cultural Theory, Routledge Major Works Series.
- 2007 Korean language edition published by Nanan Publishers, Seoul, Korea.

Kloppenburger, Jack, (editor)

- 1988 Seeds and Sovereignty: The Use and Control of Plant Genetic Resources. Chapel Hill, NC: Duke University Press.

Paper, "Biotechnology in the world agricultural system: a new technological order for the new biology?" Frederick H. Buttel, J. Tadlock Cowan, Martin Kenney, and Jack Kloppenburg,, annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, New York, 24-29 May, 1984.

Group leader, for Sustainable Agriculture, A Time to Choose: An Ecumenical Event on the Future of the Family Farm in Wisconsin, Madison, WI, 8-9 March, 1985.

Paper, "Industry-university relationships and the land-grant system," Frederick H. Buttel, Martin Kenney, Jack Kloppenburg,, and Douglas Smith, Symposium on the Agricultural Scientific Enterprise, Lexington, Kentucky, 10-12 March, 1985.

Paper, "Seeds of struggle: germplasm resources in the world economy," Jack Kloppenburg,, Marxist Scholars Conference, University of Chicago, Chicago, 21-24 March, 1985.

Lecture, "Social implications of biotechnology for plant breeding," Potato Genetics Group Lecture Series, Department of Horticulture, University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI, 12 April, 1985.

Speech, "The social implications of biotechnology," annual meeting of the Governing Board of the Wisconsin Rural Development Center, De Forest, WI, 20 May, 1985.

Presentation, "Social implications of new genetic technologies: problems and prospects," Progressive Hill Staff Group, United States Congress, Washington, DC, 25 July, 1985.

Paper, "Two blades of grass: the contradictions of agricultural research as state intervention," Jack Kloppenburg, and Frederick H. Buttel, annual meeting of the American Sociological Association, Washington, DC, 26-30 August, 1985.

Member, Work Group on Managed Systems-Plants, Congressional Office of Technology Assessment Project "Technologies to Maintain Biological Diversity," Washington, DC, March/July/September, 1985.

Paper, "Biotechnology, plant breeding, and intellectual property: social and ethical dimensions," by Jill Belsky, Frederick H. Buttel, and Jack Kloppenburg,, Conference on Ethical Issues in Trade Secrecy and Patent Control over Research Findings, Center for the Study of Ethics in the Professions, Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago, 4-5 October, 1985.

Paper, "Social impacts of biotechnology in the U.S. and the Third World," Jack Kloppenburg,, Gerardo Otero, and Daniel Lee Kleinman, Planning Symposium on Biotechnology and Food Systems in Latin America, Center for U.S.-Mexican Studies, University of California, San Diego, 18-20 November, 1985.

Presentation, "Trends in biotechnology," Social Trends Briefings, Center for Resource Policy Studies, University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI, 17 February, 1986.

Presentation, "Social issues in ownership and value of genetic resources," Brown Bag Series, Center for Resource Policy Studies, University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI, 23 April, 1986.

Session organizer, Seeds and Sovereignty: Debate Over the Use and Control of Plant Genetic Resources, annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Philadelphia, 25-30 May, 1986.

Paper, "The common bowl: plant genetic interdependence in the world economy," Jack Kloppenburg, and Daniel Lee Kleinman, annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Philadelphia, 25-30 May, 1986.

Paper, "As you sow: technical transformation and the genetic supply (seed) industry," Jack Kloppenburg,, annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Philadelphia, 25-30 May, 1986.

Paper, "The green revolution and the fourth resource: plant germplasm and political economy in the Third World," Jack Kloppenburg,, annual meeting of the American Sociological Association, New York, NY, 30 August-3 September, 1986.

Paper, "Seeds of controversy: geopolitical struggle and plant genetic resources," Jack Kloppenburg and Daniel Lee Kleinman, Union for Radical Political Economics Regional Conference, Ann Arbor, MI, 24-26 October, 1986.

Paper, "Scientific labor and monopoly capital: managing R&D in the corporate laboratory," Daniel Lee Kleinman, Jack Kloppenburg,, and Leslie Oakes; 11th annual meeting of the Society for Social Studies of Science, Pittsburgh, PA, 23-26 October, 1986.

Session organizer, "Biotechnology and the Social Transformation of Scientific Practice," at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Chicago, IL, 14-18 February, 1987.

Paper, "Science and the labor process: scientists and managers in genetic engineering firms," Daniel Lee Kleinman, Jack Kloppenburg,, and Leslie Oakes, annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Chicago, IL, 14-18 February, 1987.

Lecture, "The social context of the development of biotechnology in agriculture," University of Wisconsin-Platteville, Platteville, WI, 15 April, 1987.

Panel presentation, "The micropolitics of research in an LGU," Jack Kloppenburg,, session The Politics and Policy Relevance of Sociological Research on U.S. Agriculture: Past and Present, annual meeting of the Research Group on the Sociology of Agriculture of the Rural Sociological Society, Annual Meeting of the Rural Sociological Society, Madison, WI, 12-15 August 1987.

Paper, "Seed wars: common heritage, private property, and political strategy," Jack Kloppenburg, and Daniel Lee Kleinman, annual meeting of the Rural Sociological Society, Madison, WI, 12-15 August, 1987.

Lecture, "Seeds of struggle: germplasm and geopolitics," Colgate World Food Lecture Series, Colgate University, Hamilton, NY, 13 October, 1987.

Keynote address, "The campus and the corporation: who will control agricultural biotechnology?" Seeds of Discontent: Conference on Genetic Resources for Our World, National Farmers Union (and 23 other organizations), Ottawa, 14-15 October, 1987.

Workshop leader, Working Group on the Loss of Genetic Diversity, Conference on Genetic Resources for Our World, National Farmers Union (and 23 other organizations), Ottawa, October 14-15, 1987.

Lecture, "The genetic basis of food security," Conference on Issues in International Food Security, Colgate University, Hamilton, NY, 13-19 June, 1988.

Lecture, "Germplasm and geopolitics," Potato Genetics Group Seminar Series, Department of Horticulture, University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI, 15 April, 1988.

Lecture, "Is germplasm a resource of the country or of the world?" Plant Breeding/Agronomy/Horticulture/Genetics 957, "Collection, Maintenance, and Utilization of Germplasm," University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI, 29 April, 1988.

Participant and author of position paper, "The social and political aspects of germplasm conservation," Keystone International Dialogue on Plant Genetic Resources, Keystone Foundation, Keystone, CO, 15-20 August, 1988.

Participant and presenter, International Symposium on the Biology of Zea diploperennis and the Conservation of Plant Genetic Resources, Universidad de Guadalajara, Guadalajara, Mexico, 9-11 December, 1988.

Paper, "Farmers' rights and breeders' rights: who should benefit from indigenous knowledge?" annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, San Francisco, CA, 14-19 January, 1989.

Lecture, "Genetic imperialism, gene robbery, and food security," Carroll College, Waukesha, WI, 16 February 1989.

Participant and paper presenter, "Agricultural applications of biotechnology: emerging institutional issues," International Symposium on Biotechnology for Sustainable Development, United Nations Environment Programme/International Federation of Institutes of Advanced Study/African Centre for Technology Studies, Nairobi, Kenya, 27 February-3 March, 1989.

Lecture, "Seed wars: science, politics, and food security," Albright College, Reading, PA, 9 March, 1989.

Lecture, "Germplasm preservation and utilization in developing countries," University of Wisconsin Corn Breeding Forum, Madison, WI, 22 March, 1989.

Lecture, "Managing the world's natural resources for everyone's benefit," Conference on Global Food Problems and Global Solutions, University of Vermont, 4 April, 1989.

Participant and presenter, "Social and ethical issues of biopesticides," Conference on Biotechnology and Sustainable Agriculture: Policy Alternatives, National Agricultural Biotechnology Council, Iowa State University, Ames, IA, 22-24 May, 1989.

Organizer, three paper sessions on Indigenous Knowledge in Agricultural Development, annual meeting of the Rural Sociological Society, Seattle, WA, 5-8 August, 1989.

Paper, "Indigenous knowledge and crop genetic conservation: rights and benefits for farmers," annual meeting of the Society for Economic Botany, Knoxville, TN, August, 1989.

Organizer, Conference on Environmental Security in the 1990s, Center for International Cooperation and Security Studies, University of Wisconsin, 8-11 March, 1990.

Panel presentation, "The distribution of rights in and access to biodiversity," Conference on "Environmental Security in the 1990s", Center for International Cooperation and Security Studies, University of Wisconsin, 11 March, 1990.

Paper, "A Cease-fire for the seed wars: toward a new international genetic order," Jack Kloppenburg,, 4th Annual Conference of SSRC-MacArthur Fellows in International Peace and Security, Budapest, May 12-16, 1990.

Panel presentation, "Ethical issues in germplasm collection," annual meeting of the Society for Economic Botany, Madison, WI, June 11-14, 1990.

Lecture, "Maintaining the options: economic democracy and the new plant biology," Lewis and Clark College, Portland, OR, October 21, 1990.

Keynote address, "Defining the challenges: economic democracy and the new biotechnologies," given at Biotechnology: Agriculture & Environment - A National Conference and Strategy Session, the Biotechnology Working Group, Washington, DC, 9-10 November 1990.

Presentation, "Property rights and genetic resources: institutional frameworks for conservation and equitable exchange," made for the Wisconsin/AID Seminar on Resource Tenure and the Environmental Debate, Washington, DC, 8 April 1991.

Paper, "¡Prohibido cazar!: expoliación científica, los derechos indígenas, y la biodiversidad universal," Jack Kloppenburg,, presented at the Simposio Nacional: Efectos Socioeconómicos de la Biotecnología, Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, Mexico City, 25-27 November, 1991.

Panel presentation, "Rights and responsibilities in the collection, conservation and exchange of genetic resources," at Tropical Forest Medical Resources and the Conservation of Biodiversity, a symposium organized by the Rainforest Alliance and The New York Botanical Garden, New York, NY, 24-25 January 1992.

Presentation, "Biotechnology, farmer knowledge, and sustainable agriculture," to the Third Annual Sustainable Agriculture Institute, Northeast Wisconsin Sustainable Farmers Network, Sturgeon Bay, WI, 10 February 1992.

Lecture, "Whose head is the farmer using, whose head is using the farmer?: social theory and the reconstruction of agricultural science," for the Science in Society Series, Indiana University, 23 March, 1992.

Lecture, "Rights and responsibilities in the collection and use of plant genetic resources," for the Plant Science Colloquium, University of Wisconsin, 31 March 1992.

Seminar, "Local knowledge and biodiversity," given for the Development Education Circle, University of Wisconsin, 13 April 1992.

Panelist, for "A participatory dialogue on the value assessment of advanced biotechnologies," 1992 Earth Coalition and the F.H. King Students of Sustainable Agriculture, Madison, WI, 23 April 1992.

Presentation, "Biodiversity and social justice," to the Churches' Land and People Project, Sinsinawa Dominican Sisters, Sinsinawa, 9 July 1992.

Lecture, "Whose head is the farmer using? Whose head is using the farmer?" given to the F.H. King Students of Sustainable Agriculture, University of Wisconsin, 22 September 1992.

Presentation, "Equitable property rights regimes for genetic resources," at the annual meeting of the Pew Scholars Program in Conservation and the Environment, Portland, OR, 8 October 1992.

Lecture, "No hunting: from scientific poaching to a New International Genetic Order," in the Kenneth Parsons Lecture Series, Department of Agricultural Economics, University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI, 29 March 1993.

Presentation, "Engineering and the sociology of knowledge," for the Social Factors in Engineering Group, School of Engineering, University of Wisconsin, 15 May 1993.

Lecture, "Local knowledge versus scientific knowledge in agriculture," for the History of Science Colloquium, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 22 October 1993.

Presentation, "Genetic resources, rotational grazing, and the foodshed," at the 1993 annual meeting of the Pew Scholars Program in Conservation and the Environment, Mountain Lake, VA, 1 October 1993.

Presentation, "NGOs and biodiversity," to the NGOs and Democratization Working Group, Havens Center, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 2 November 1993.

Presentation, "From Chiapas to Sauk City: creating new agricultural spaces," to the Dump the Dairy Board/Family Farm Defenders, Madison, 22 January 1994.

Presentation, "Coming in to the foodshed," to the Science, Technology, Agriculture, Resources and the Environment Training Seminar, University of Wisconsin, 25 February 1994.

Panel organizer and presentation, "Rotational grazing: evolution or revolution?" for the Midwest Organic Farming Conference, Sinsinawa, WI, 5 March 1994.

Presentation, "Current status of bioprospecting," to the IPR.NET Strategy Meeting, C.S. Fund, Occidental, CA, 17-18 September 1994.

Presentation, "Biotechnology and the U.S. food system," to the Citizen's Dialogue on Biodiversity, Biotechnology and Intellectual Property Rights, Fort Mason Center, San Francisco, CA, 19 September 1994.

Presentation, "Bioprospecting and farmers' rights," to the Strategy Session on Rights for Community Control of Biodiversity, Genetic Resources Action International, Montezillon, Switzerland, 17-18 October 1994.

Keynote address, "Does history know where it's going?: the changes in the genetic supply industry," for International Symposium on Patents, Genes, Butterflies: Are Plants and Indians Becoming Raw Materials for the Gene Industry?, Swissaid and The World Wildlife Fund, Bern, Switzerland, 20-21 October 1994.

Keynote address, "Does technology know where it's going?: the planetary patriots and the agrarian question," to the International Congress on Agrarian Questions: The Politics of Farming Anno 1995, Wageningen Agricultural University, Wageningen, The Netherlands, 22-24 May 1995.

Workshop, "Don't pave paradise: defending community gardens." 1995 Rural-Urban Conference, Michael Fields Institute, East Troy, WI, 28 October, 1995.

Colloquium presentation, "Sophisticated science and primitive accumulation: w(h)ither farmers rights?" Presented in the Colloquium Series, Program in Agrarian Studies, Yale University, New Haven, CT, 26 January, 1996.

Brownbag presentation, "Gene-sheds and foodsheds in the 21st century." Land Tenure Center Brownbag Series, University of Wisconsin-Madison, March 7, 1996.

Organizer, Chair, Presenter, Panel on "State of the Madison foodshed: tracking the source of our food." 6th Annual Urban-Rural Conference, Michael Fields Agricultural Institute, East Troy, WI, November 9, 1996.

Presentation, "Food system to foodshed." Annual Meeting of Chefs Collaborative 2000, Madison Chapter, Madison, WI, November 16, 1996.

Keynote speech, "From food system to foodshed: eating for sustainability in the 21st century." Conference on Sustainable Agriculture and Organic Food Systems, Michigan State University, East Lansing, MI, March 4-5, 1997.

Panelist, "Food system localization and globalization: critical perspectives." Annual meeting of the Agriculture, Food and Human Values Society, Madison, WI, June 6, 1997.

Presider and presenter, "Food pathways and pedagogy: using commodity chain analysis in education." Annual meeting of the Agriculture, Food and Human Values Society, Madison, WI, June 6, 1997.

Panelist, "Developing interdisciplinary food studies programs." Annual meeting of the Agriculture, Food and Human Values Society, Madison, WI, June 7, 1997.

Presider and presenter, "Implementing foodshed analysis: initiatives in Wisconsin." Annual meeting of the Agriculture, Food and Human Values Society, Madison, WI, June 7, 1997.

Lecture, "From food system to foodshed: eating sustainably in the 21st century." Seminar Series on Corporate Power, Citizen Power: Striking a Balance, The Madison Institute, Madison, WI, June 14, 1997.

Presider and presenter, "Eating your teachers: learning from the food you eat." Midwest Environmental Education Conference, October 18, 1997.

Speech, "Eating for peace and justice: from food system to foodshed in the 21st century." Peace Action-Milwaukee, Milwaukee Area Greens, Democracy Unlimited of Milwaukee, Milwaukee Hunger Task Force, October 29, 1997.

Presentation, "Indicators of food system sustainability." Sustainability Community Indicators-Train the Trainers Workshop, United States Environmental Protection Agency, Chicago, IL, October 29, 1998.

Presentation and workshop, "Imagining a sustainable food system." Michael Fields Urban-Rural Conference, East Troy, WI, November 14, 1998.

Presentation and workshop, "Measuring food system sustainability." Michael Fields Urban-Rural Conference, East Troy, WI, November 15, 1998.

Presentation, "An indigenous foodshed for Oneida?" Oneida Nation Food Committee, Oneida, WI, November 19, 1998.

Keynote Lecture, "Localizing the food system: myths and realities." Keynote lecture in the seminar series "Reintegrating Agriculture and Community in the Midwest: Waking Up To Promising Possibilities," University of Nebraska, Lincoln, NE, 12 January, 1999.

Lecture, "From food system to foodshed: eating for sustainability in the 21st Century." Minnesota Institute for Sustainable Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, 26 May 1999.

Paper, "If I Can Pry It Up...: Modes of Extraction in Bioprospecting." Presented at the annual meeting of the American Sociological Association, Chicago, IL, 10 August 1999.

Lecture, "Pascal's Wager and the Precautionary Principle: Democracy, Demagoguery, and Deliberate Release." Presented to the CALS Graduate Student Council Symposium on Ethical and Stewardship Issues in Scientific Research, Biotechnology Center, UW-Madison, 23 September 1999.

Panel, responding to "Trade Relations Between the EU and the US," speech of John B. Richardson, Deputy Head of the European Commission Delegation to the United States, Center on World Affairs and the Global Economy, UW-Madison, Madison, 19 October 1999.

Lecture, "Sterile Spring?: Terminator Technologies and Cannibalistic Capitalism." Presented to the University of Wisconsin Student Pugwash, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 26 October 1999.

Paper/Presentation, "Pascal's Wager and the Transgenic Diet: Democracy, Demagoguery, and the Deliberate Release of Genetically Modified Organisms," Eighth East-West Philosopher's Conference on "Technology and Cultural Values on the Edge of the Third Millennium," East-West Center, Honolulu, 19 January, 2000.

Presentation, "Eating for Environmental and Social Justice: Are GMOs Part of a Sustainable Agriculture?" Food For Thought Conference, Northwest Illinois Audubon Society, Freeport, IL, February 19, 2000.

Presentation, "The World is Whose Garden? Breaking Into the Memory Banks," International Relations Discussion Series, University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI, February 23, 2000.

Workshop presentation, "The Globalization of Food – Where does My Food come From, and why Should I Care?" Farm to Table: Growing Healthy Foodsheds and Community, Washington State University and the Cascade Harvest Coalition, Olympia, WA, 25 March, 2000.

Workshop presentation, "Coming In To the Foodshed -- Creating Sustainable, Local food Systems in an Era of Globalization." Farm to Table: Growing Healthy Foodsheds and Community, Washington State University and the Cascade Harvest Coalition, Olympia, WA, 25 March, 2000.

Capnote address, "Global Food -- Local Food: Eating to Sustain Farms and Communities in the 21st Century." Farm to Table: Growing Healthy Foodsheds and Community, Washington State University and the Cascade Harvest Coalition, Olympia, WA, 26 March, 2000.

Organizer and presenter, "Appetite for Change: Food, Community and Sustainability," six part discussion series in cooperation with the College Food Project, F.H. King Students of Sustainable Agriculture, UW Office of Food Services, Center for Integrated Agricultural Systems, Institute for Environmental Studies, March-May, 2000.

Presentation, "GMOs and Sustainability." Plant Breeding and Plant Genetics Journal Club, UW-Madison, 24 April, 2000.

Speech, "Eating For Environmental and Social Justice." Madison Earth Day 2000, April 22, 2000.

Presentation, "Eating For Environmental Justice." Department of Natural Resources Earth Day Series, Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, 25 April, 2000.

Panelist, "Panel Discussion on Genetically Engineered Food." WisPIRG Consumer Campaign, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 27 April, 2000.

Presentation, "Biotechnology and Healthy Food Choices." Madison Socialist Potluck, 10 June, 2000.

Speech, “Agricultural Crossroads: Is America Leading?” Honolulu Rotary Club, Royal Hawaiian Hotel, Honolulu, 8 August, 2000.

Keynote Speech, “Food and the New Millennium,” 12th Annual Pacific Islands Taro Festival, Taro Resource and Design Center, Windward community college, Kane’Ohe, HA, 11 August, 2000.

Workshop, “Food in America Dialogue,” 12th Annual Pacific Islands Taro Festival, Taro Resource and Design Center, Windward Community College, Kane’Ohe, HA, 12 August, 2000.

Seminar, “Aquaculture in Context,” Center for Applied Aquaculture and Marine Biotechnology, Oceanic Institute, Waimanalo, HA, 16 August, 2000.

Workshop presentation, “Food: Is It Just Another Commodity?” Michael Fields Agricultural Institute 9th Urban-Rural Food Systems Conference. East Troy, WI, 23 September, 2000.

Keynote lecture, “Wisconsin’s Rural Landscape: What Is Behind the Facade?” in the PLATO Seminar Series, Madison, WI, 29 September, 2000.

Paper, “Eating for Social and Environmental Justice in the 21st Century.” Annual Meeting of the Wisconsin Sociological Association, River Falls, WI, 13 October, 2000.

Presentation, “Biotechnology Briefing,” at the Wisconsin Public Interest Group Midwest Organizing Conference, Madison, WI, 15 October, 2000.

Presentation, “Genetically Modified Foods,” River Valley Environmental Discussion Group, Spring, Green, WI, 18 October, 2000.

Presentation, “Foodshed and Food Systems Research: The Wisconsin Approach,” to the Advanced Agroecology and Food Systems Seminar, Agricultural University of Norway, As, Norway, 2 November, 2000.

Presentation, “Appetite for Change: Eating for Social and Environmental Justice,” to the CALS Graduate Council Fall Bioethics Seminar, UW Biotechnology Center, 16 November, 2000.

Seminar, “Coming In To The Foodshed: A Pilgrim’s Progress,” Environmental Studies Seminar Series, University of California-Santa Cruz, 27 November, 2000.

Keynote Lecture, “Appetite for Change: Eating for Environmental and Social Justice,” for the Good Ideas Symposium, University of Wisconsin-Marathon County, 9 January, 2001.

Keynote Address, “Unplugging From the Corporate / Global Food System,” for the 22nd Annual Winter Conference of the Northern Plains Sustainable Agriculture Society, Aberdeen SD, 2 February 2001.

Keynote Address, “Protecting the Family Farmer: Unplug From the Corporate / Global Food System?” for the 70th Annual State Convention of the Wisconsin Farmers Union, Eau Claire, WI, 10 February 2001.

Presentations, “Biotechnology in Agriculture and the Health Care Industry.” Workshop for the Citizen’s Assembly, Madison, WI, 23-25 March 2001.

Lecture, “The Future of the World Food Supply,” to the West High School International Relations Club, Madison, WI, 27 March 2001.

Panelist, “What You Should Know About GMOs,” WisPIRG Biotechnology Panel, Madison, WI, 1 May 2001.

Panelist, Reconfiguring the Foodshed: Research Into the Motivations and Visions of Actors Creating Alternative Food Systems, Annual Meeting of the Agriculture, Food, and Human Values Society, St. Paul, MN, 7 June 2001

Panelist, Teaching the Food Chain, Annual Meeting of the Agriculture, Food, and Human Values Society, St. Paul, MN, 7 June, 2001.

Presentation and discussion, “Food For Thought,” to the Wisconsin Farmers Union July Chatauqua, Wisconsin Dells, Thunder Valley Inn, 21 July 2001.

Lecture, “Of Food Systems and Foodsheds: A Pilgrim’s Progress, or, There and Back Again,” Conference on Global Development in the 21st Century, Robert A. and Ruth E. Polson Institute for Global Development, Cornell University, Ithaca, NY, 22 September, 2001.

Seminar, “From Food System to Foodshed: Eating for Sustainability in the 21st Century,” Nutritional Sciences Brown Bag Seminar Series, Department of Nutritional Sciences, University of Wisconsin, 4 October 2001.

Workshop, “Unplugging From the Corporate Food System: Why and How,” at the Upper Midwest Organic Farming Conference, Lacrosse, WI, 1 March, 2002.

Seminar, “Eating for Sustainability,” for the F. H. King Students of Sustainable Agriculture Seminar Series, University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI, 5 March 2002.

Session Chair, “The Role of the Social Sciences and Ethical Disciplines in Agroecology Research and Education,” Workshop on New Directions in Agroecology Research and Education, University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI, 29 May.

Discussant, session on “Agroecology and the University at a Crossroads – Pulling the Public Into the Process,” Workshop on New Directions in Agroecology Research and Education, University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI, 30 May.

Workshop, “Biotechnology and Fair Trade,” Annual Meeting of the National Family Farm Coalition, Madison, WI, 28 July, 2002.

Plenary Panel Presentation, “A New Vision and Research Direction for the Land Grant College System,” at the Conference on Sustainable Agriculture, Rural Justice, Healthy Food Systems, and the Land Grant Colleges: A People’s Agenda for the 21st Century, UW Greens and Family Farm Defenders, Madison, WI, 25-27 October, 2002.

Seminar presentation, “First the Seed: The History of Plant Improvement From the Columbian Exchange to GMOs,” to the Culinary Historians and Educators of Wisconsin, Madison, WI, 4 December, 2002.

Paper presentation, “Still the Seed: Historical Trajectories and the Future of Plant Biotechnology,” at the annual meeting of the American Anthropological Association, Chicago, IL, 21 November, 2003.

Seminar presentation, “Still the Seed: Historical Trajectories and Alternative Paths for Plant Biotechnology,” Departmental Seminar, Department of Rural Sociology, 26 March 2004.

Panel presentation, “Perspectives Then and Now: Graduate School Tales from Nelson Institute Professors,” to graduate students of the Nelson Institute for Environmental Studies, 23 April 2004.

Lecture, “The Wisconsin Homegrown Lunch Project,” to the Something Is Happening in the Salad Bowl Program, UW-Madison Teacher Enhancement Program, 26 July 2004.

Organizer, Symposium in Honor of Frederick H. Buttel, Sustainability and Social Justice: Reflections on Agriculture, Technology, and the Environment in an Age of Globalization, at the annual Meeting of the Rural Sociological Society, Sacramento, CA, August 11, 2004.

Lecture, “You Are What You Eat,” to the Presentation to the Bradley Learning Community Roundtable Series, University of Wisconsin, 13 September 2004.

Lecture, “Coming In To The Foodshed: The Landscape Is What You Eat,” to the Landscape Architecture Graduate Colloquium, 3 October 2004.

Workshop presentation, “Foodsheds and Food Systems,” to the Inter-Tribal Working Group on Food System Assessment, College of Menominee Nation, 12 October 2004.

Paper presentation, “Genesis and Development of REAP,” to the session on “Walking the Talk in Madison: How to Undertake Projects That Build an Organization While They Build a Local Food System,” Annual Conference of the Community Food Security Coalition, October 19, 2004.

Keynote, “The State of the Dane County Foodshed,” Dane County Local Food Summit Conference, Local Food Policy Advisory Subcommittee of the Dane County Board, February 11, 2005.

Presentation, “The Future of Dane County Food System,” to the annual meeting of Homegrown Wisconsin Cooperative, 26 March, 2005.

Expert panelist, Madison Consensus Conference on Nanotechnology, 18 April, 2005.

Workshop, “Foodshed Analysis: Potentials in Indian County,” for the Inter-Tribal Working Group in Food Systems, Lac Courtes Oreilles Ojibway Community College, April 21-22, 2005.

Presentation, “Buy Fresh, Buy Local,” to a joint meeting of the Extension Committee, Agricultural Advisory Committee, and Environment, Agriculture and Natural Resources Committee of the Dane County Board, 21 June, 2005.

Presentation, “Recommendations of the Local Food Advisory Subcommittee,” to the Environment, Agriculture and Natural Resources Committee of the Dane County Board, 5 July, 2005.

Presentation, “Coming in to the Madison foodshed.” to the Leadership Greater Madison Team, 6 December, 2005.

Seminar, “On Beyond Groundhog Day: Sophisticated Science, Primitive Accumulation, and the Promise of Open Source Biology,” Rural Sociology Department Seminar / SociETAS Seminar, October 20, 2006.

Keynote Lecture, “Another (IPR) World is Possible?: Plants, Patents, and the Promise of Open Source Biology,” at the Fall Colloquium of the UC–Berkeley Working Group on Science, Technology, Ethics and Law, “The New Properties of Plants: Problems in Intellectual Property and Innovation,” Berkeley, CA, October 27, 2006.

Presentation, “Matthew 25:31: Guidance for eating sustainably,” to the Social Concerns Committee, Lutheran Campus Center, November 2, 2006.

Presentation, “You are what - and where - you eat,” to the International Learning Community, Global Dialogue Series, November 17, 2006.

Lecture, “On Beyond Groundhog Day: Plants, Patents, and the Promise of Open Source Biology,” to the Cornell Development Sociology Alumni Seminar Series, Cornell University, December 1, 2006.

Lecture, “Walking the Talk in Madison: Lessons From the REAP Food Group,” Hope In Action: 2007 Rural Life Gathering, Churches Center for Land and People, Dubuque, IA, February 1, 2007.

Lecture, “Think Globally, Eat Locally: Food Sovereignty and Food Citizenship in an Age of Empire,” Core Connections Lecture Series, University of New England, March 1, 2007.

Lecture, “Eating Locally, Thinking Globally: Sustainability and the Food System,” Colorado College, Colorado Springs, March 8, 2007.

Lecture, "Thinking Locally About Consumption and Sustainability: What's Possible With Food," Shared Reading Series: Affluenza, University of Wisconsin-Marathon, April 17, 2007.

Lecture, "Place and the Alimentary Left: Is 'Eating Locally' Sustainable and Just, or Just Bourgeois Piggery?" Tuan Lecture Series, Department of Geography, University of Wisconsin, April 27, 2007.

Lecture, "What is Sustainability?" Environmental Science 2, Monona Grove High School, May 10, 2007.

Paper presentation, "Teaching Our Eaters, Eating Our Teachers: Practical Food Pedagogy for Undergraduate Instruction," Annual Meeting of the Agriculture, Food and Human Values Society, Victoria, BC, May 31, 2007.

Paper presentation, "If You Serve It, Will They Come?: Farm-to-school Lessons from the Wisconsin Homegrown Lunch Project," Annual Meeting of the Agriculture, Food and Human Values Society, Victoria, BC, June 1, 2007.

Paper presentation, "Place and the Alimentary Left: Is 'Eating Locally' a Challenge to the Global Food System or Just Bourgeois Piggery?," Annual Meeting of the Agriculture, Food and Human Values Society, Victoria, BC, June 1, 2007.

Paper presentation, "Plant Breeders, Patents, and the Potentials and Pitfalls of Open Source Biology," Annual Meeting of the Agriculture, Food and Human Values Society, Victoria, BC, June 2, 2007.

Lecture, "Eating Responsibly: Guidance From Matthew 25:31-36?" Cumberland Lutheran Church Lecture Series, Cumberland, WI, July 28, 2007.

Lecture, "On beyond groundhog day: plants, patents, and the promise of open source biology," Department of Crop and Soil Science Seminar Series, Washington State University, Pullman, WA, October 15, 2007.

Lecture, "Sustainability and Social Justice," at Focus the Nation: Global Warming Solutions for America, University of Wisconsin, January 31, 2008.
